

YES!

Youth For Environment Sustainability

Youth for Environment Sustainability, YES! a week-long program aims to engage students in global environmental issues with a focus on how to make an impact in their own local area. Discussions, field experience and learning simple but effective environment protection activities will further empower students to lead their community into a more environmentally secure future.

Located in the Sahayadri Hills (Western Ghats) a biodiversity hotspot of the world, and over the last 13 years having become a biodiversity reserve itself, UWC Mahindra College, is ideally placed to host YES!. The college, it's dedicated faculty and NGOs that are making inroads in organic farming and environment will ensure the best possible support for YES!

YES! is looking for motivated young adults from different economical and cultural backgrounds to participate and we encourage schools to use this opportunity to send small groups of students with a teacher so that they may share their experiences with their peers through projects on their return.
